

Julian Scott

Julian Scott (born 1991 in Edinburgh) graduated from St. Anne's College, Oxford with a first class honours degree in Musicology in 2012.

Following this he studied oboe with Jonathan Kelly at the Musikhochschule „Hanns Eisler“ and the Karajan Academy in Berlin. Both during his time in the academy and since finishing in the summer of 2017, Julian has been freelancing, appearing as Guest Principal oboist with the NDR Radiophilharmonie, Budapest Festival Orchestra, Norwegian Radio Orchestra, Camerata Bern and the Finnish Radio Symphony Orchestra and as second oboist in the BBC Scottish Symphony Orchestra, the Scottish Chamber Orchestra, Royal Northern Sinfonia and Mahler Chamber Orchestra.

Julian also pursues other (non-musical) interests. He is founder and director of Mate-tea.co.uk, a UK-based company selling his favourite drink – Maté and he is a qualified personal trainer. He is also a keen woodworker and is building his own house in Brittany, France.
